

Abraham J. Laydon Biography

Abraham J. Laydon represents clients in commercial and residential real estate matters including development, entitlements, leasing, condemnation, foreclosure, and conveyancing. Mr. Laydon also advises businesses and nonprofit organizations with regard to mergers and acquisitions, contracts, and entity formation; handles litigation and alternative dispute resolution through mediation and arbitration; and counsels individuals and families with their estate planning and estate administration needs.

Mr. Laydon is a member of the Denver Bar Association, the Colorado Bar Association, and the American Bar Association. He is also a member of Denver Active 20-30 serving underprivileged youth and an officer of the Metro Denver Board of Christian Legal Society.

During law school, Mr. Laydon was the winner of CU's premier moot court competition, an editor of the Colorado Journal of International Environmental Law and Policy, and Vice President of his class.

Mr. Laydon was born in Denver and is a fifth generation Coloradan. He speaks conversational French and is fluent in Spanish. In his free time, he enjoys Colorado sports, art and film, being involved with Cherry Hills Community Church, and spending time with his wonderful wife and their two children.